Five 'Reed' Authors Look Over This Year's Edition

Good Reading Features '50 Issue of 'Reed'

By now many students have purchased their copies of "The Reed" and realize that there is an appreciable amount of literary talent contained in the 1950 issue.

The short stories showed mature treatment; outstanding of these was "The Seventh Age" by Charlotte Richardson. Her story is of a little old lady, "voluptuous with age, soft-willed, kind, a reservoir of love for soft babies ... but she had no grandchildren." In contrast is her daughter, Claire, "a biting, sarcastic woman ... married a fussy, old-maidish man ... they swore at each other and never had children." Miss Richardson's character portrayal shows realism combined with imagination.

An appealing story of a small Japanese boy, "Above All, the Earth," was written by Martha Miyaki. This contribution was a Phelan first prize winner.

Keith Kerwin's poem, "Caliban: American," cleverly exhibits an undertone of sarcasm aimed at American high-pressure salesmanship and "Black Clarity," by William Small is a fine example of word-painting.

An amusing essay by Robert B. Williams, "Borborygmus," reveals that the 'stomach, and not the heart, is true barometer of the emotions.

Three freshman compositions are included in the magazine, written by Sheldon E. Bayard, Rosemary McKean and Margaret Blair. Miss McKean's "How Nice!" is particularly entertaining.

The Weather

A leftover sample of winter weather asserted itself yesterday and you know the results. Little temperature change is expected today with morning cloudiness. Tuesday's high was 74 with a low of 46. Wind accompanied spotty skies.

Sophs Defeat Frosh, 42-32

The freshmen tried hard yesterday, but just didn't have the power of their older brothers as the sophomore class won the Frosh-Soph Mixer by a score of 42-32.

The sophomores had an easy time of it, losing only the barrel relay race and falling behind in dance attendance. The Frosh set a mark of 4 min. 53 sec. for the tour via barrel around the campus. This was the most thrilling event for the wind-blown participants and spectators.

Herb Patnoe and his orchestra entertained a large crowd at the dance, which ended the day-long festivities. The Townsman played during intermission, at which time the final scores were announced and welcomed by a large cry from the sophomores present.

Juniors Cast Most Votes

Warren, Douglas Victorious In Spartan Daily Mock Election

Earl Warren and Helen Gahagan Douglas were the choices of 252 San Jose State college students who participated in the Spartan Daily's mock election Monday and Tuesday.

Both Warren and Mrs. Douglas took an early lead in balloting Monday. Final returns showed that Warren won approval of students here by a comfortable majority. He received 173 votes to Jimmy Roosevelt's 73. Welburn Maycock, Gilroy attorney, received six votes.

Mrs. Douglas edged her Republican opponent, Richard Nixon, in a close "campaign" with 121 votes. Nixon polled 93. Manchester Boddy, publisher of the Los Angeles Daily News, received 36 votes.

Of the students who answered the ballot questions, 169 said they were of voting age and 70 said they were not.

The freshman and senior class each cast 59 votes; sophomores cast 30, graduate students cast 13, and the faculty 8. The Junior class "got out" the biggest vote and cast 81 ballots.

"The mock election, while not a perfect measure of student body opinion, showed that at least 252 students were interested enough in state politics to cast mock ballots," said the Spartan Daily electioneers who sponsored the affair.

"It also is interesting to note that the students who cast the most ballots were of voting age," they said.

The mock election candidates will go before California voters in the June 6 primary election. All have cross-filed.

It is not too late for students away from home to write for their absentee ballots, providing they are registered voters in their home counties. County clerks and registration officials will be receiving absentee ballots until June 1.

Heath Announces New Finals Sked

Breaking with the present finals schedule which has been in effect for two years, a new schedule will be inaugurated for the fall quarter of this year, Dr. Harrison F. Heath, Examination Committee chairman, announced yesterday.

The system will rotate every quarter, much the same as does the present registration system at San Jose State college.

The new finals schedule, although it will also benefit students, was designed primarily for the benefit of those of the faculty who, quarter after quarter, had finals scheduled on Thursday.

Those classes which meet for finals on Thursday of this quarter, in the autumn quarter will meet on Monday, and in each

Dick Reinhart to Play For SJS Chapel Ball

Dick Reinhart and his orchestra will swing into action Saturday night as more than 600 couples attend the annual Chapel ball. Admission to the Civic auditorium will be by bid or student body card and is free to San Jose State college students, according to Duke Deras, social affairs chairman. Reinhart's featured vocalist, blonde Betty Brownell, and vivacious, red-haired Betty June Holt, SJS student, will furnish melodious atmosphere for the Memorial fund event.

MacQuarrie Frees College Classes Monday, May 29

All classes will be dismissed at 11:30 o'clock Monday, May 29, for a Memorial Day program, according to Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie.

The program, which will be held near the site of the future Memorial Chapel south of the Commerce building, has been arranged by Lowell Pratt, public relations director and a committee.

The program will include: "Boston Commandery March" by band stationed near platform; Color Guard advances from ROTC headquarters to platform during playing of above number; "Star Spangled Banner" by band; Remarks by Dean James C. DeVoss; Ceremony of driving 12 stakes by representatives of ASB, AWS, the four classes (two from each class), alumni and faculty; Report on campaign by Don Schaeffer, president of ASB; Prayer by Phil Ward; Chorale by band to close program.

Dr. MacQuarrie also announced that the students will hold their annual Recognition Day from 12:30 to 1:30 in the Morris Dailey auditorium on Thursday, June 1.

Although classes will not be dismissed, a good many students will take part in the program and others may want to be present. Dr. MacQuarrie is requesting that the faculty members look with friendly eyes on all such yearning creatures.

Student Officials Attending Meet

Don Schaeffer, ASB president, and three of the newly-elected student body executive officers will leave today for Yosemite National park to represent San Jose State college at the 1950 Pacific Student Presidents convention.

The new officers attending the three-day convention are Dave Down, president; Bob Madsen, vice-president; and Pete Cirivieri, treasurer.

Baccalaureate Scheduled for Gym

The Men's gymnasium at San Jose State college will be the setting for baccalaureate services this year on June 18, Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, president of the college, announced yesterday. Previously, the services have been held in the Morris Dailey auditorium, which is no longer large enough to accommodate the graduating class and the faculty.

There will be more than 900 in the June graduating class, college officials announce. This is the largest class in the history of the institution. The faculty now numbers more than 400.

subsequent quarter will move back one day: e.g., an 8:30 TTh class will have its final scheduled for 7:30 on Monday in the autumn quarter of this year; at the next quarter that class will meet for finals at 7:30 on Tuesday, and so on for the subsequent quarters.

Student Y Plans Unusual Box Social This Evening

Procedures go in reverse tonight when the Student Y presents its "Backwards Box Social" in the rear yard of the Student Y house at 6 o'clock. The men will pack decorated box lunches which will be bid on by the women Y's present.

Jim Martin, Y secretary, stated that the men should pack lunch enough for two and try for original box decorations. Martin added that women may bid on the lunches with IOU's if they wish, but they must "pay off" by June 7.

Patrons for the dressy affair include Dean Helen Dimmick, Dean Paul Pitman, Mrs. Izetta Pritchard, Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Luick, Miss Anna Loze and Mr. Edward Cundiff.

A royal blue crepe paper ceiling will spotlight the large Chapel replica, which has been completed by Alpha Phi Omega members. A unique backdrop for the band has been designed to duplicate the attractive gold and white tasseled bids, according to Dorothy Littig, decorations chairman.

Patrons for the dressy affair include Dean Helen Dimmick, Dean Paul Pitman, Mrs. Izetta Pritchard, Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Luick, Miss Anna Loze and Mr. Edward Cundiff.

Miss Smith Takes New Library Post

Shifting off the burden of a dual job, Miss Joyce Backus, college librarian, announced yesterday that she has resigned as head of the department of librarianship, effective July 1.

She will continue her present position as college librarian, however.

Miss Dora Smith, present Reference room librarian and a faculty member since 1930, will succeed Miss Backus as head of the department of librarianship. She will remain in charge of the Reference room also, according to Miss Backus.

Miss Backus has carried the double responsibilities since a "major" in librarianship was first authorized here in 1929. She gave up teaching in 1945 and since that time has served the department of librarianship only as administrative head and adviser.

Miss Smith, one of the four Library staff members teaching librarianship courses, is a native of Ogden, Utah. She received her A.B. and M.A. degrees at the University of California and served on the staff there. She has also taught at the University of Southern California's Library school.

ASB Leaders Defer Action on $35,000

The Student Council yesterday afternoon deferred action on the disposition of $35,000 from accumulated Spartan shop profits until a special meeting of the Council to be held next Wednesday.

The Council did not feel that it had sufficient time at yesterday's meeting to properly consider the suggestions made by the Spartan Shop board for the money's use.

Forensic honors for Sam Datri, Paul Gormley, William B. Johnson, Russell J. Maynard, John Mix and Robert Whitall were approved on the recommendation of Mr. Wilbur F. Luick, forensics director. This is the third award for Gormley and the first award for the others.

The Council also: Approved June 1 as the date for the Recognition assembly. It will be held in the Morris Dailey auditorium from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. Learned that Memorial day ceremonies will be held on the site of the Memorial Chapel. Dr. James C. DeVoss will speak.

Heard a report from the Rally committee that try-outs for yell leaders will be held June 6 at the inter-squad football game.

Debators Meet Rams

SJS debaters John Mix and Sam Datri will present the negative side of the resolution that: "the United States should nationalize the basic non-agricultural industries" at 1 o'clock today against a debate team from San Francisco City college on the Rams' campus.

Advertising Staff 'Hustles' for Spartan Daily

Academy Offers Music Auditions

Scholarships for the eight-week summer session of the Music Academy of the West, located at Santa Barbara, are available for students of piano, voice, cello, and woodwinds.

Applications for scholarships must be made in writing and addressed to Muriel Macgurn, 2045 California street, the Academy's San Francisco representative, prior to June 15. Auditions will be held in San Francisco on Saturday, June 24, the time and the place to be announced later.

Martial Sangher, baritone, and Soulima Stravinsky, pianist, academy faculty members, together with local music authorities will be on the auditioning committee.

The scholarships are offered by the Academy's Northern California committee.

Instructors for the fourth session of the Music Academy, July 7 to September 1, include Dr. Richard Lert, academy musical director, and Evelina Coloni, New York, voice. Teaching piano besides Stravinsky are Joanna Graudan and Mildred Couper. Nikolai Graudan is cello instructor, and Simon Kovar, woodwinds.

Pacific Areas Want Teachers

During the first three weeks of this month the Placement office has received elementary and kindergarten calls from 31 California counties and from Alaska and the Pacific Islands Trust territory. Miss Doris K. Robinson, Placement director, announced yesterday.

"Though we have many calls for secondary teachers, the majority of calls is for elementary and kindergarten," Miss Robinson said.

"We do not have a sufficient number of calls to place those who are trying for a secondary credential. I would advise some of those secondary people to switch to elementary," she added.

According to Miss Robinson, the Placement office has had a 50 percent raise in placement for this school year, over the same period two years ago.

Placement Bulletin

A New Jersey college has openings in various fields for men with M.A. degrees at salaries of $3000. Further details may be had in the Placement office.

There is an opening for a general naturalist in a Peninsula city to work with boys and girls from the first grade to high school. Inquire at the Placement office.

Examinations will be held for elementary and elementary and kindergarten positions in Los Angeles. Last dates to file are June 14 and 28. See the bulletin board outside the office.

For those interested in civil service there is information on how to get a civil service position posted on the bulletin board.

Dr. Wilbur H. Swanson of the Natural Science department will interview anyone who is qualified to take a position as a laboratory technician in a local laboratory. Dr. Swanson may be reached in S234.

"Welcome Wagon Hostess", a national hospitality organization, has positions open for hostesses and assistant hostesses, to go into homes to offer gifts of their sponsors to new brides, new homemakers, new residents, new mothers, newly engaged woman and teen-age girls on their sixteenth birthdays. Hostesses will be furnished automobiles. The training period will be held in either Los Angeles or New York. Call at the Placement office for further information.

The United States Navy is offering regular commissions to women as officers of the line, supply or medical service. A college degree is required in related fields for each of the services.

Thrust and Parry

T. and P. Branding Tool?

Dear Thrust and Parry and Personnel Office:

In a recent interview I had in the Personnel office, I was surprised to discover attached to my permanent personnel records was an article I had written to this column some time ago. Since this material is apparently used by the administration for reviewing students' records for many purposes, I would like to make an inquiry concerning the actual purpose of this column. Is it a vent for intellectual aggressions, or is it rather a tool used by the administration as a branding process for the more liberal scholars attending this institution?

It may be granted that the filing of articles submitted to this column may at times be of some benefit to the personnel office in counseling students concerning the necessary machinery imposed by the administration. But, does not such use also have the potentiality of becoming a weapon to discredit the student in future relationships on and off campus?

My question: Should our scholars be discouraged from using this column because they may fear future repercussions, or should they feel free to use this column to express their democratic ideals?

Sincerely,
Francis John Kelly,
ASB 224

Russ Petitions Foolish? ..

Dear Thrust and Parry:

I have heard that certain members of our flock have been led astray in believing that they can influence our administration's decision to discontinue the teaching of Russian literature and language in our college.

I understand that they have been circulating petitions in an attempt to get student support for participation in these courses.

Now isn't this foolishness on their part after our administration has already decided to drop Russian courses from the curriculum? For, after all, what possible good could be gained from taking either of these courses?

It seems to me that these individuals are not aware of the seriousness of our present day problems with Russia. After all, this is a time of crisis, of conflict between two great nations. What we need is unity, a spirit of national pride.

Therefore, the undersigned congratulates the administration for its economy and farsightedness in deciding to discontinue the teaching of these two courses.

A Loyal American,
ASB 7760.

Writing Class Student Sells Three Articles

Russell M. Howard, member of a magazine article writing class, has recently received payment for three articles he submitted to two farm journals, Mr. Owen Atkinson, instructor of the class, stated. Two of the articles, entitled "Sugar Beets" and "Feeding Lettuce to Cattle", were sent to the "Hereford Journal". The third, "Winery Waste to Fat Beef", was submitted to "The Cattleman". Howard, an English major, is currently enrolled in Jour. 170, "Magazine Article Writing". The three articles represent his initial success in the writing field. Last quarter, Jim Hayes, former editor of the Spartan Daily, also sold an article and more recently Albert Hinman, who is now taking the course, sold a piece to the "New Yorker" to appear in the near future, Atkinson said. The article is on the humorous side of fishing.

Seniors Requested To Purchase Bids

Seniors are asked to purchase their Senior Ball bids this week in the Graduate Manager's office. Beginning Monday the leather bound ducats will go on sale to members of the entire student body, according to Ball Co-Chairmen Russ Benioff and Gale Morelock. Price of the senior class sponsored event is $3.60. Scene of the annual affair is the Jockey club of the Bay Meadows Race Track in San Mateo. Date of the hop is June 17. For the first time in many years San Jose State college will introduce a name band to dance attendants. Featuring the musical stylings of Freddy Martin, his saxophone, and his orchestra, the "Martin Men" will furnish a tune-up atmosphere from 9 o'clock to 1. "Spring bouquets will be the only decorations needed to spark the colorful club surroundings," Benioff said. Other members of the committee are Patti Welsh and Betty Jo Gleason.

Pitmans to Visit College of Idaho Over Week-end

Dr. and Mrs. Paul M. Pitman will fly to Caldwell, Idaho, Friday to spend the week-end at the College of Idaho of which Dr. Pitman will become president July 1. On Saturday they will have student leaders as their guests at luncheon and on Saturday evening Dr. Pitman will meet with the Board of Trustees of the college. The program for Sunday includes baccalaureate services in the morning and a faculty tea for seniors in the afternoon. Dr. Pitman will deliver the commencement address to the graduating class on Monday and that evening will address an alumni banquet. The Pitmans will return Tuesday to San Jose.

YELL LEADER TRY-OUTS

Try-outs for yell leader positions in the inter-squad football game will be held tonight at the Rally committee meeting in Room 24 at 7 o'clock.

Rally Group Drafts Plan

Students May Aid in Choosing Yell Leaders for Next Autumn

Students may have a hand in selecting the yell leaders for next fall at the inter-squad football game June 6. A possible plan was worked out recently by Rally Committee members after a discussion of present yell-leader selection rules. Although the job of selecting the three yell leaders still remains in the hands of the Student Council, students, if this plan goes through, will be given the opportunity of recommending the three yell leaders at the inter-squad game, where the final tryouts will be held.

The proposed plan is this: On the program roster would be included a detachable ballot which, following the game, students would mark and leave on their way out.

This plan would provide a guide for the Student Council when the time comes for the leaders to be chosen.

According to Bob Baron, who will study the plan, 10 students will be used for yells at the inter-squad game.

Plans for Mr. Spartan in connection with half-time activities for next fall were revealed by Al Silva, chairman of the Spartan head committee, at a Rally Committee meeting Wednesday.

"The Spartan head is being retained," Silva said, "but with him are two new additions. In half-time activities next fall, a couple of 'youngsters' will appear on the scene with Mr. Spartan. They will be engaged in mischief to confuse their 'pop,' Mr. Spartan, but they should be real spirit boosters for Spartan rooters."

Chuck Pogue Nabs Lead In Pentathlon Competition

By DOUG PRESTAGE

Chuck Pogue posted a two-day total of 175 points to grab the lead at the conclusion of the shot putting yesterday in the Spartan cindermen's second annual pentathlon meet at the Seventh street track.

Coming from the 10th spot, Pogue garnered 93 counters for his throw of 45 ft. 1 in. The varsity weightman got 82 points in Monday's 100-yard dash.

Dave Porter, another weightman, had the best toss of the afternoon (48 ft. 2 in.), rising from the beyond the first ten to a second-place tie with Jerry Mulvaney on 162 points. Mulvaney shared third position Monday with 88 digits.

Activities will resume with the high jump this afternoon at 3:30 p.m. In every event the athlete is competing against the clock or the yardstick. Points are given according to how well he placed, not where he placed.

Of the first day's leaders, "Red" Hall and Carl Harrison, Hall has yet to put the shot while Harrison dropped to seventh with 154 points. Harrison ran the century in 10 seconds flat the first day but could push the shot out only 31 ft. 4 in.

BROOKLYN, May 23 — Southpaw Johnny Schmitz of the Chicago Cubs scattered four Brooklyn Dodgers hits as his Cub mates won a 5-4 baseball game.

nitely a title threat, was shoved from a third-place tie to fifth yesterday. Martin has 165 points, 19 away from Pogue's number, and should take a commanding lead with the high jump competition today. His best in that event is 6 ft. 5 in. and while he may not hit that today, he certainly will have a healthy margin on the field.

In other rankings, Lynn Greene is fourth with 161, Dick Fortier is sixth with 155, Dan Sawyer is eighth with 153, and Ronnie Malre and Jim Meredith share ninth with 151 points.

Four men who were in the first ten Monday did not perform yesterday. These include Hall, Stu Inman and Rueben Derriek who were tied for third place, and Junior Morgan, who shared 10th. Morgan is co-favored in the meet with Martin and Pogue.

The New Champ?

Completing his last year of eligibility as a Spartan athlete, Junior Morgan is one of three favorites in the San Jose State college pentathlon.

Golfers Face Stanford; SF Again Cancels Meet

By JERRY THOMAS

The dual match between the San Jose State college and Stanford university golf teams Saturday shapes up to be a match with a two-fold purpose.

Primarily, the Spartans are determined to gain revenge for the defeat suffered at the hands of the Indians earlier this year. The loss was the first in two seasons of dual competition for the Spartans.

Yesterday's "open" afternoon provided the Spartans with additional practice time. They were scheduled to meet University of San Francisco at Harding Park. But for the second time within a week the Dons reneged on the match. The excess burden of final exams proved to be the main reason for the permanent cancellation of the matches this year.

The local squad recently captured the CCAA golf championship. Stanford also copped the title in its conference. They took the southern division, Pacific Coast conference title last week. That in itself was no simple task, for in accomplishing the feat Stanford had to beat UCLA, a team that had cruised through 12 matches this season undefeated.

Off hand, some people are liable to consider Saturday's meet as the match determining the best in the west, for the CCAA and PCC are the powers in coast sports.

But the Spartans will be at a marked disadvantage. Ken Venturi, freshman star, who aided the SJSC cause no end in acquiring the CCAA title, will be ineligible for Saturday's matches. Stanford abides by NCAA rulings that prohibit freshman participation in varsity activities.

Tournament Fees Due Tomorrow

Entrance deadline for the San Jose State college Open tennis tournament is 3:30 tomorrow, according to Ted Mumby, SJSC net coach who is in charge of the tournament. The tourney will start Wednesday, May 31.

Entry blanks are available in the men's physical education office. The tournament is open to students, college faculty and post graduate members.

Each participant will be charged 10 cents to enter. This entrance fee will cover costs for refreshments, which will be available for the finals.
